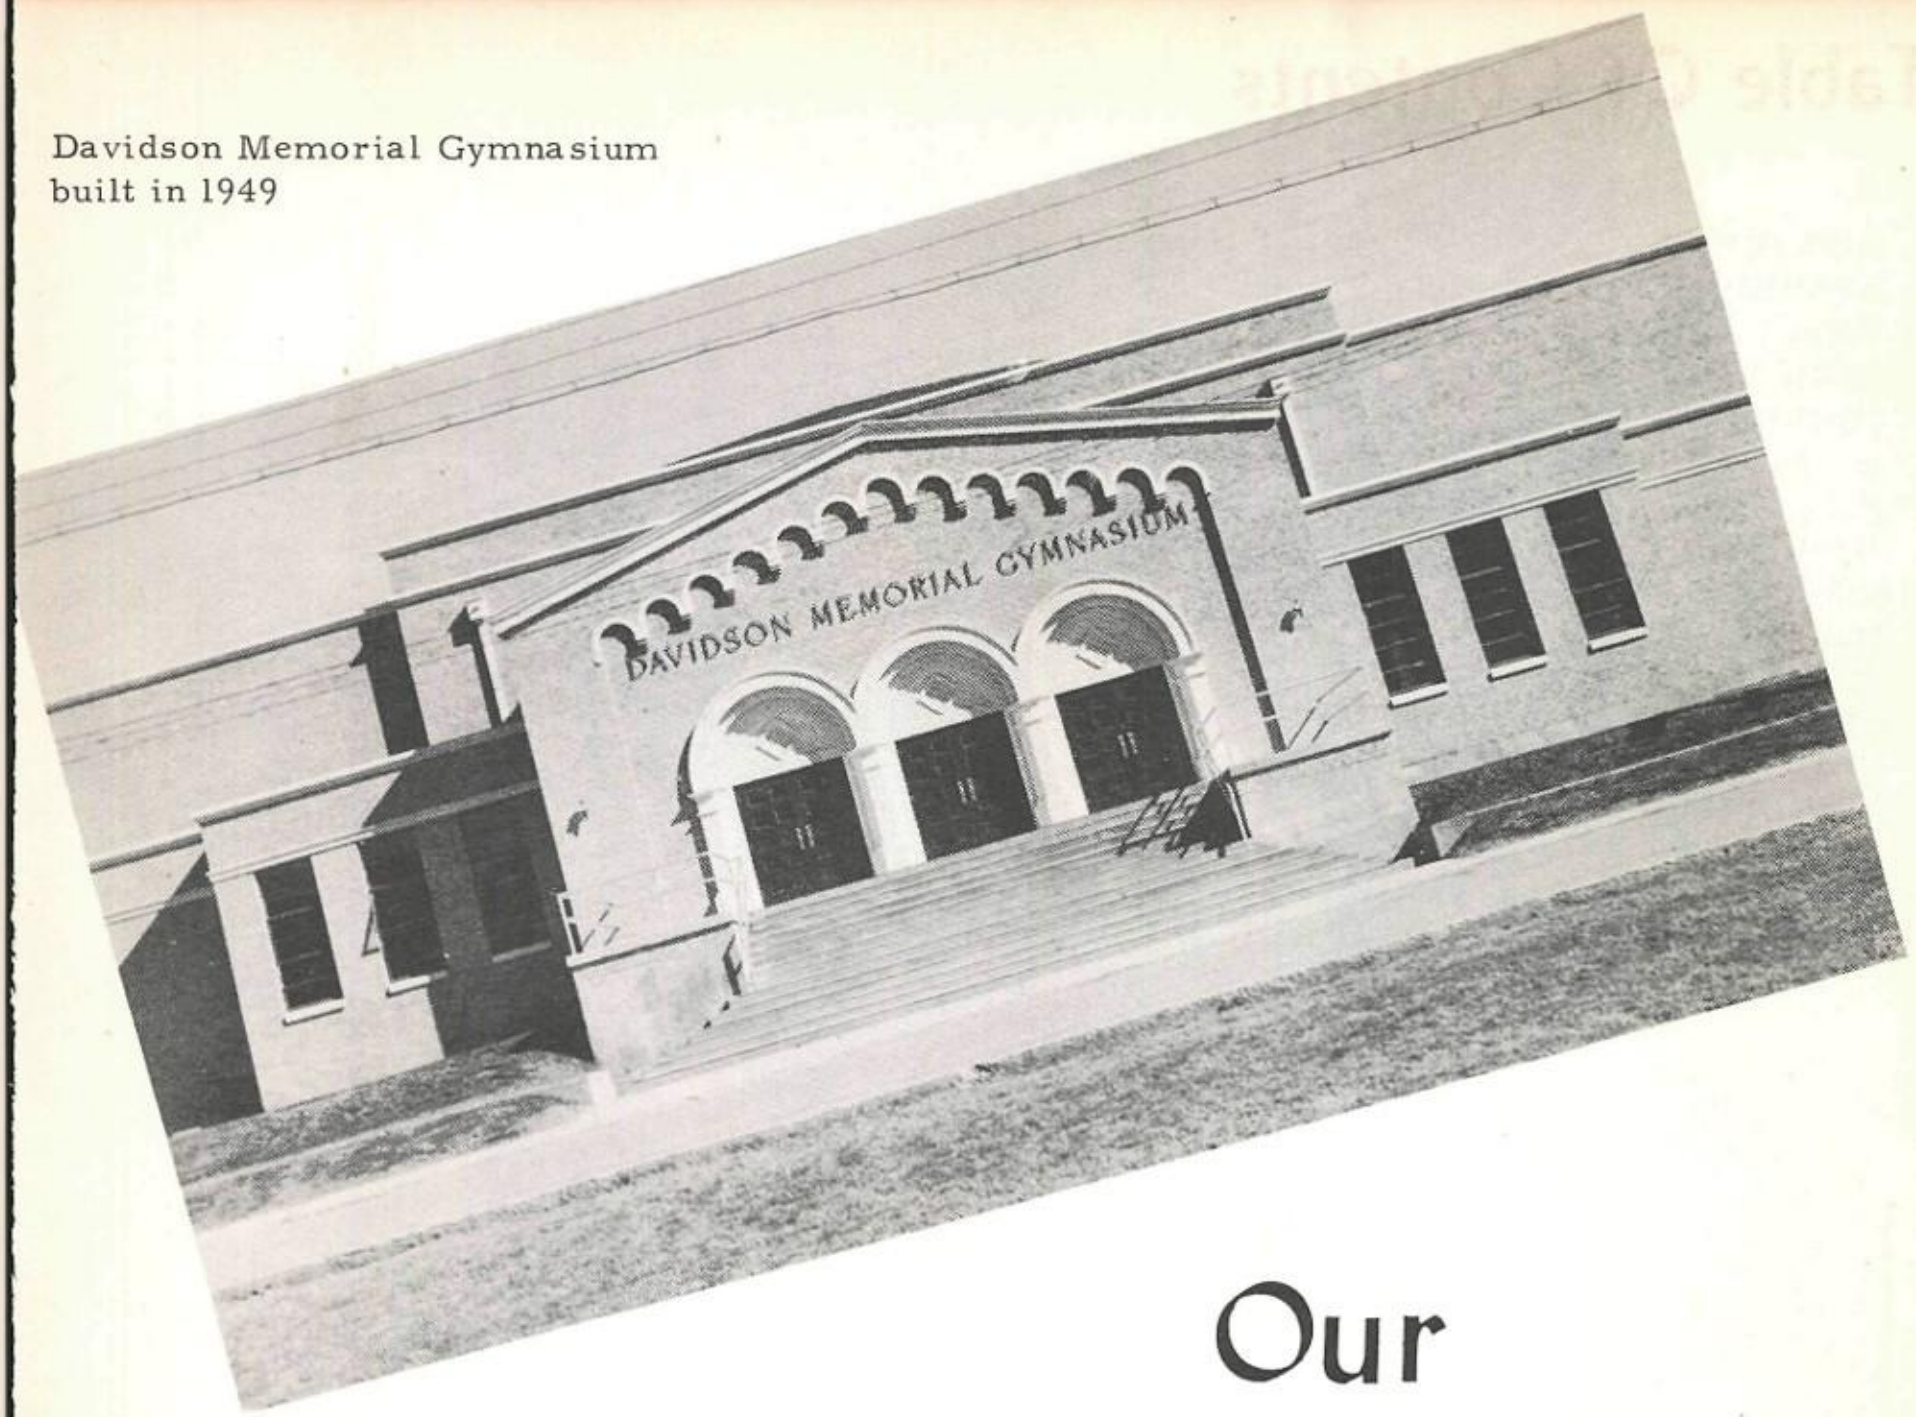
Foreword

We, of the Ozona High School Annual Staff, wish to express our thanks to those, who have helped in preparing this book. We especially wish to thank the merchants who took advertisements in the annual, for without their financial help, the publication of this book would have been impossible.

We hope that we have succeeded in recording the most important events of 1949 and 1950, and that you will get as much pleasure from reading this book as we have from editing your 1950 edition of the Lion's Roar.

Davidson Memorial Gymnasium
built in 1949



Our School

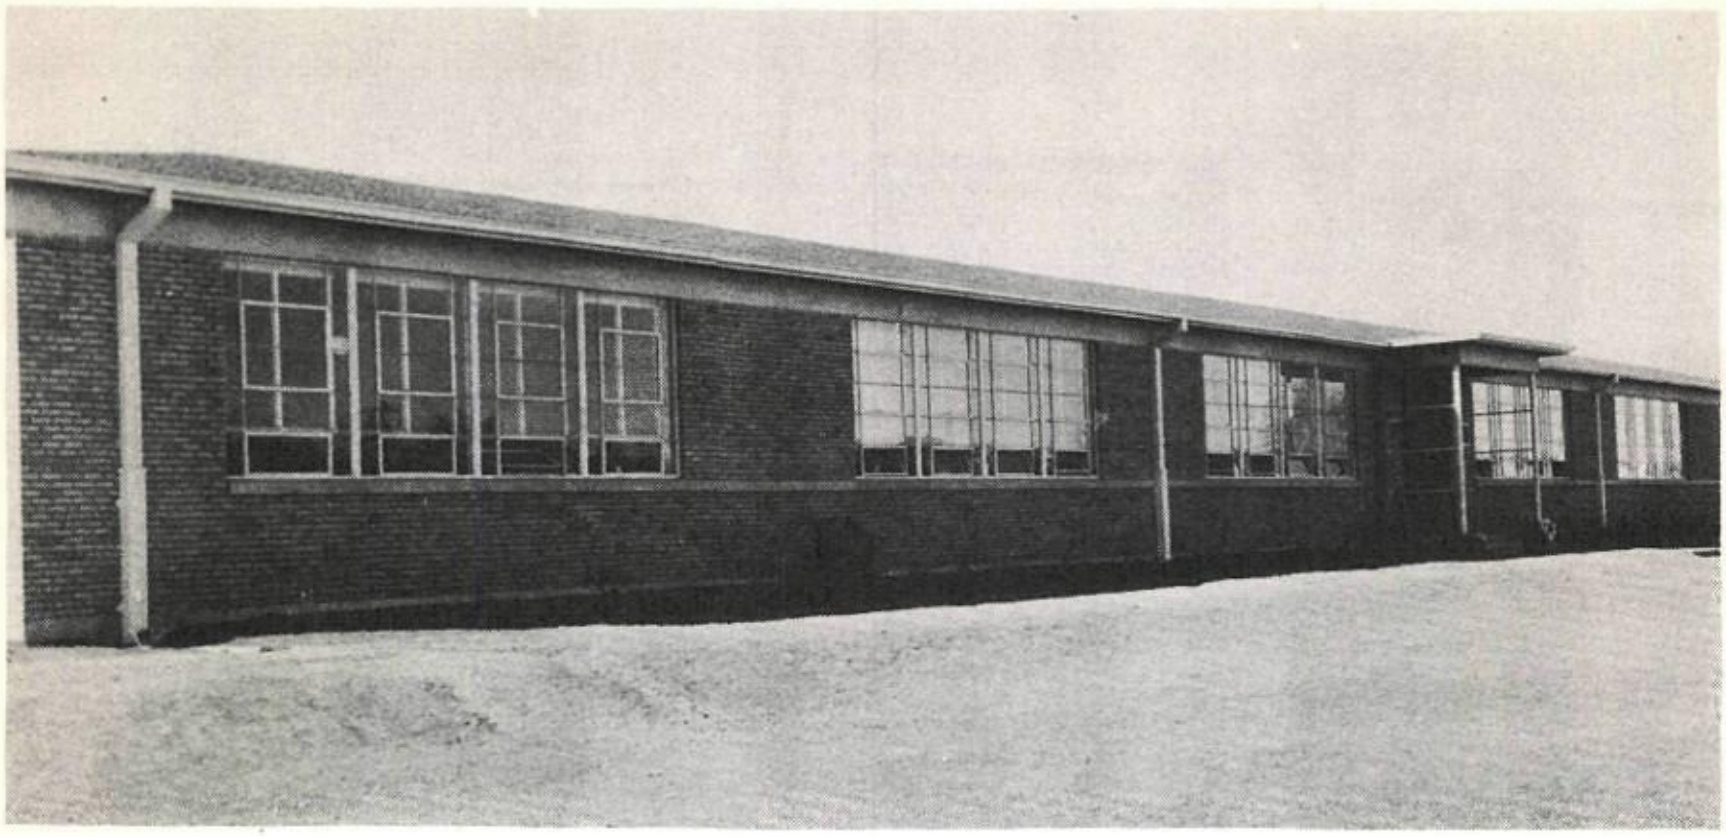
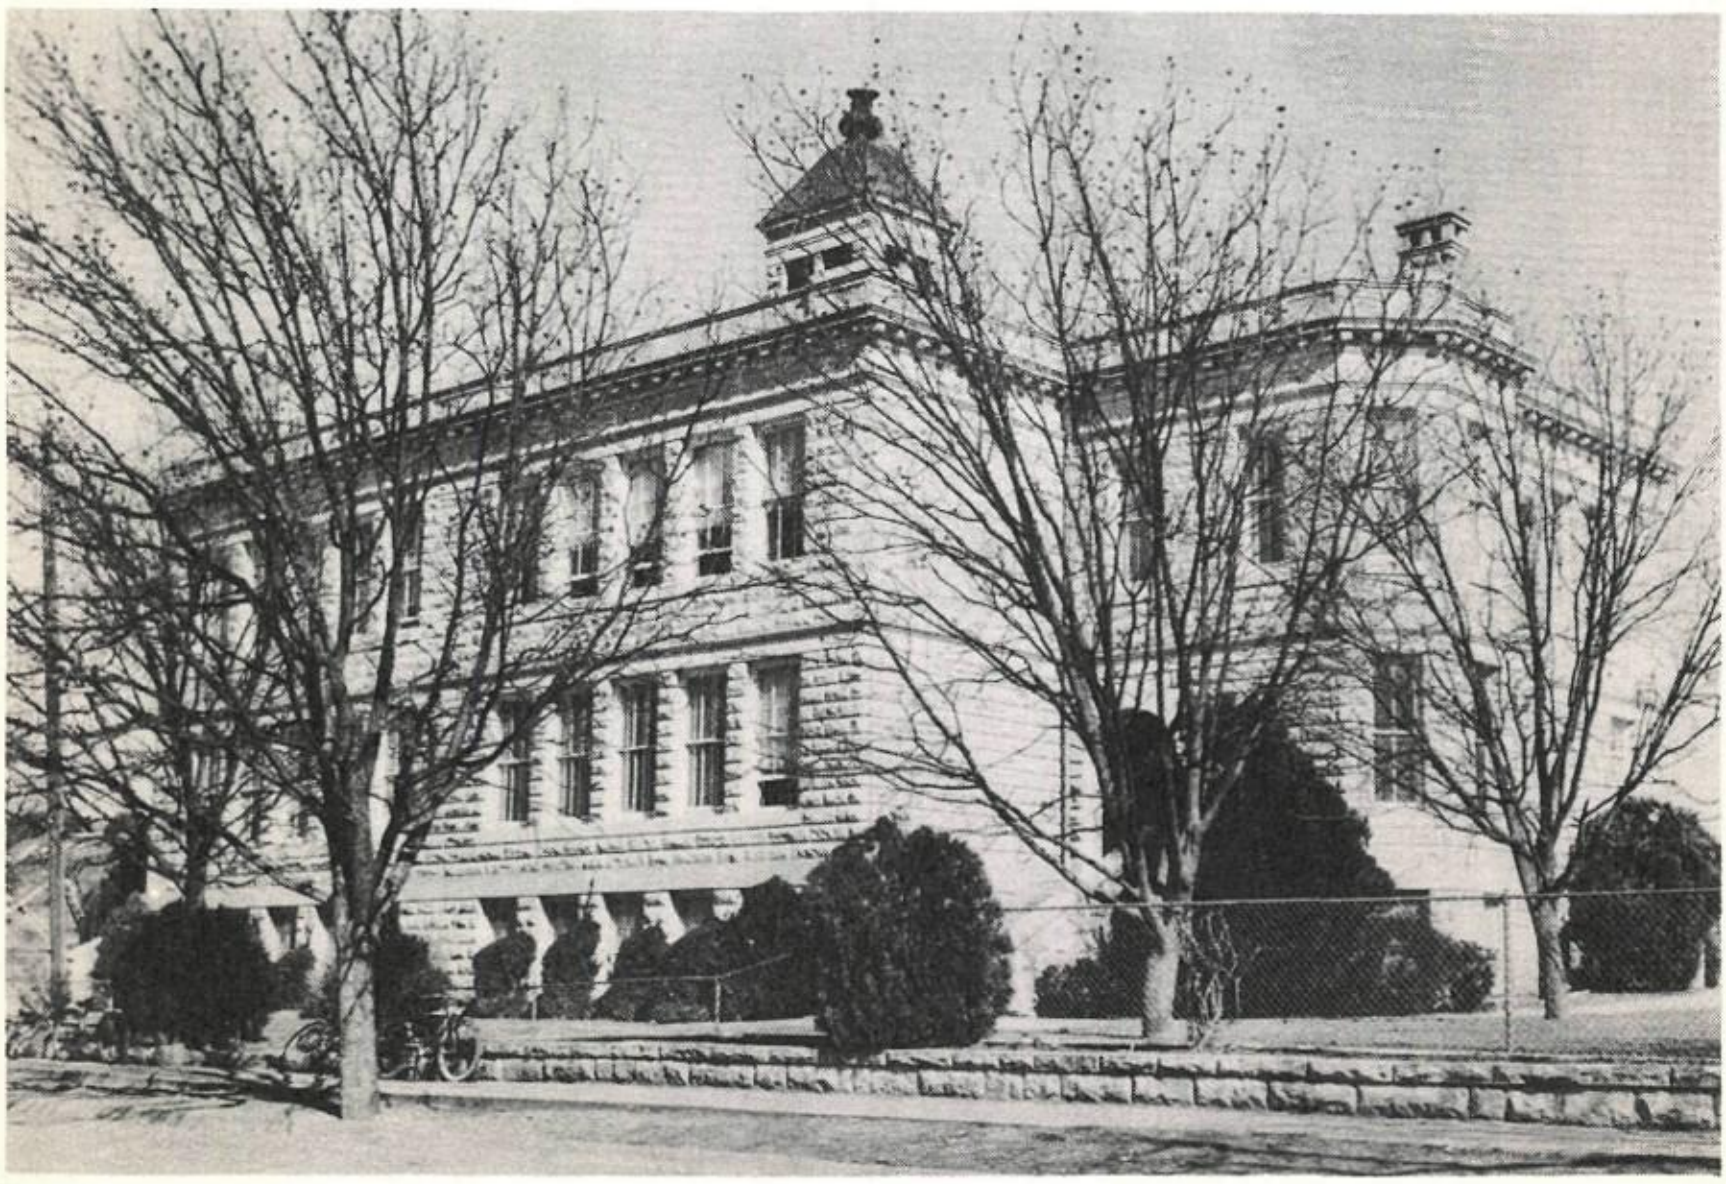
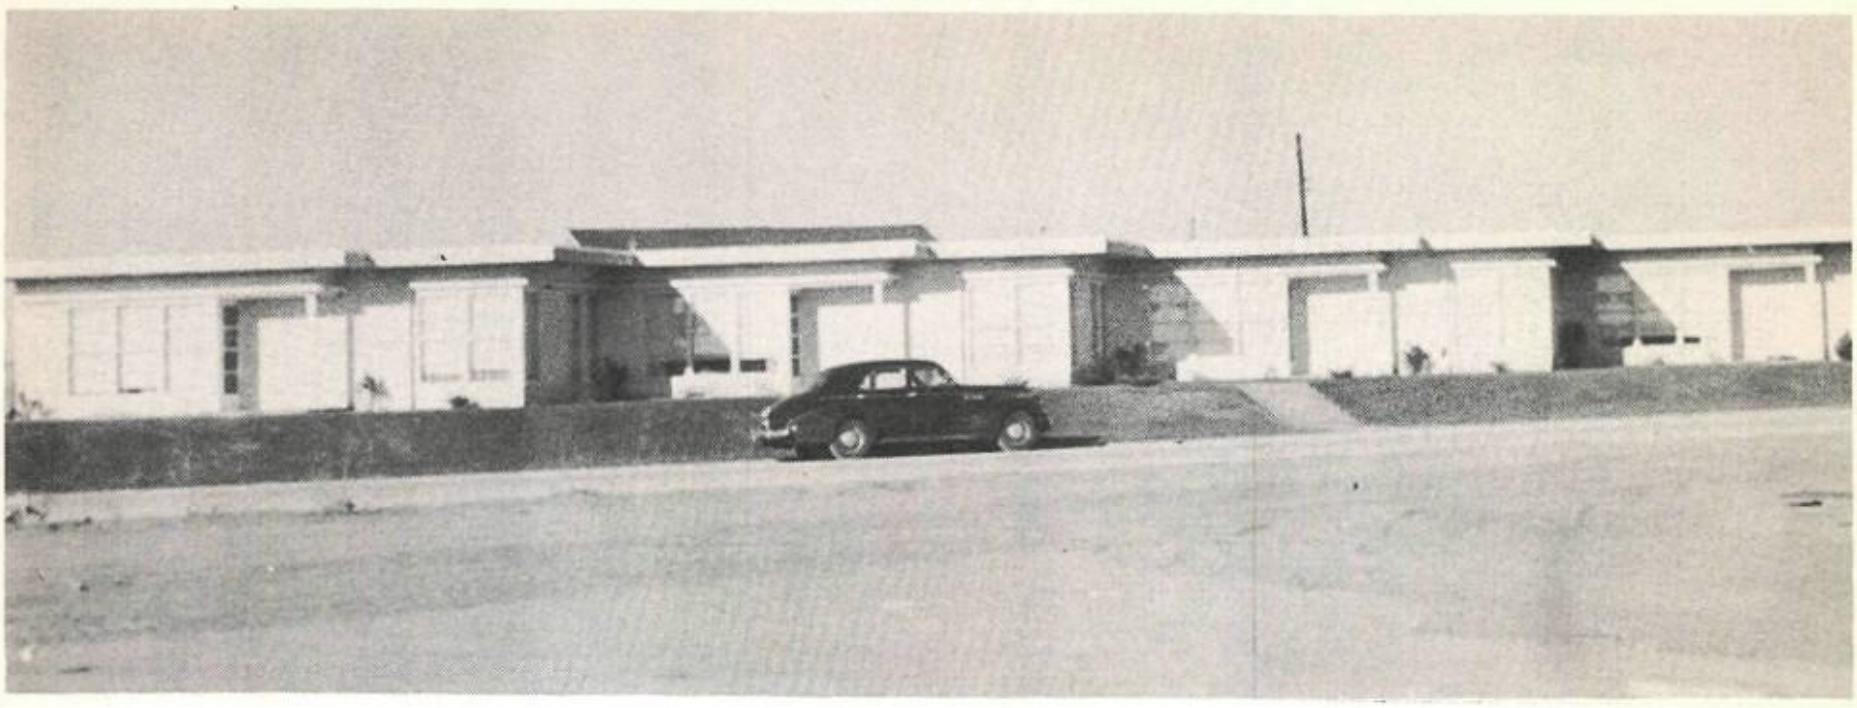
High School Building was completed in 1931 and contains a girls' gym, auditorium, offices, and classrooms for the high school



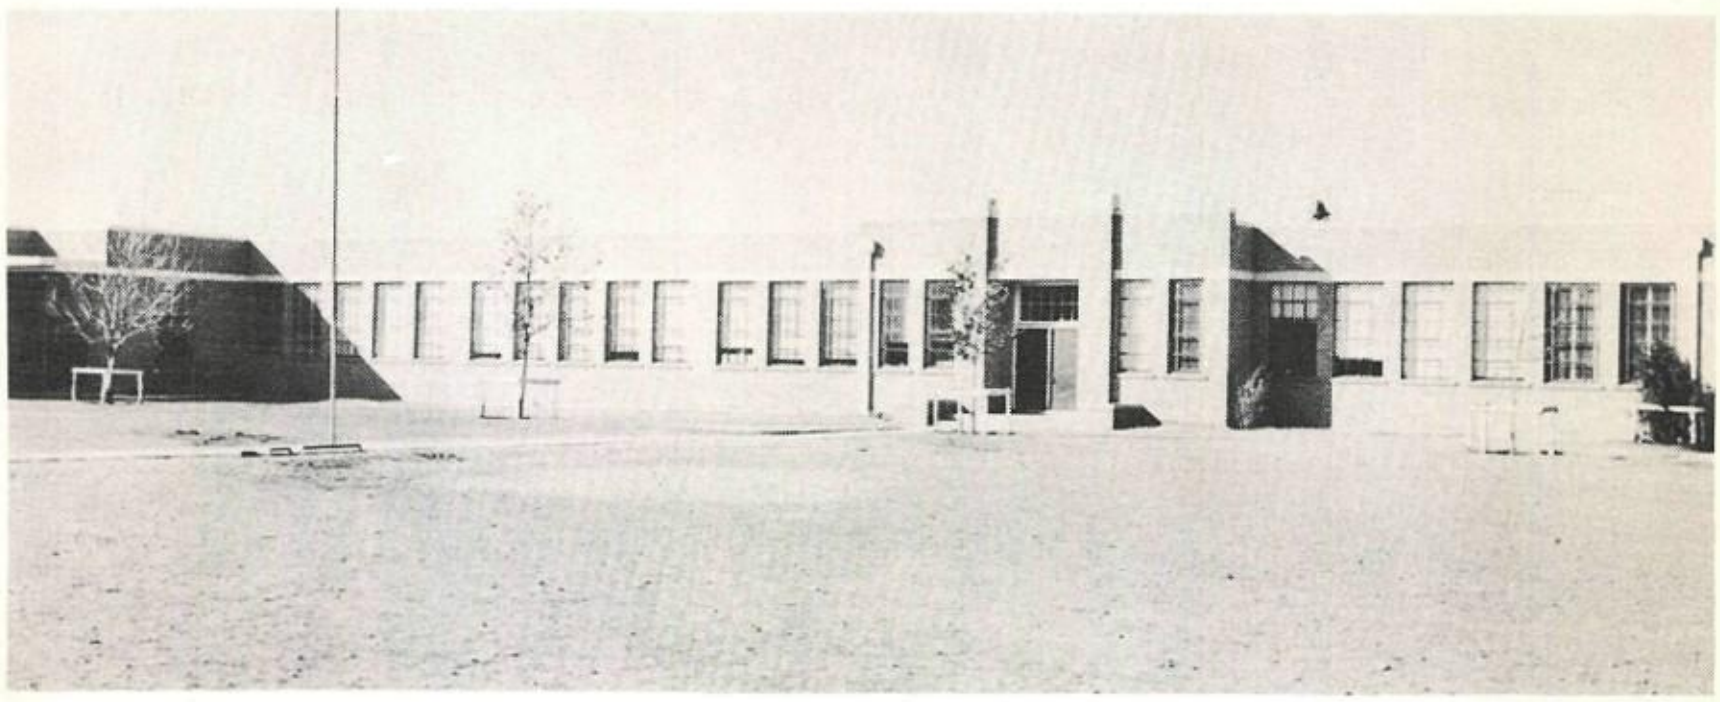
The North Elementary School Building, which was completed early in 1949. It houses the Kindergarten and the first four grades.



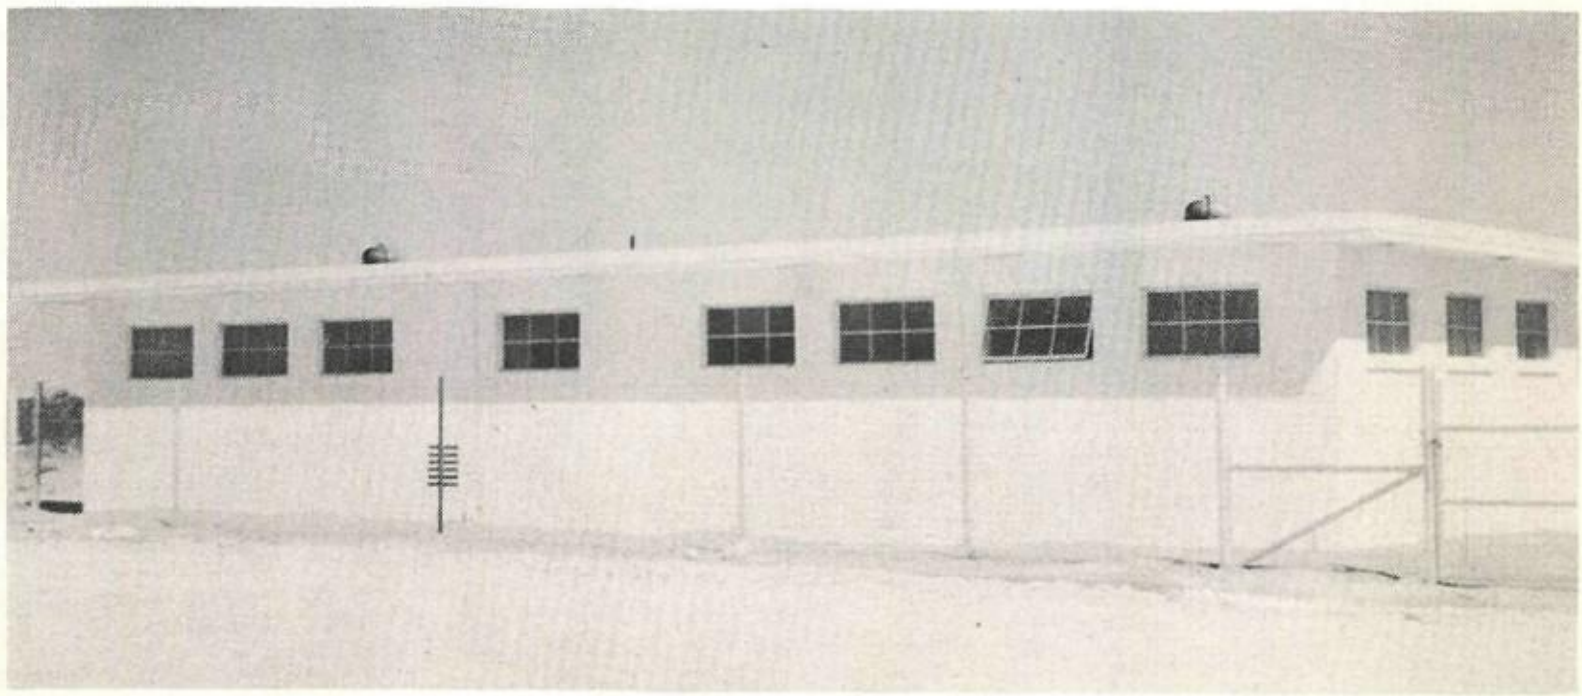
The Junior High School Building, which is the oldest building on our campus. It houses the fifth through the eighth grades, and contains in addition a band room.



This is one of two teacher-housing units owned by the school. Each consists of 4 apartments containing two bedrooms, bath, living room and kitchen.



The South Elementary School was recently enlarged by the addition of 5 more classrooms. It houses grades one through eight.



The field house was built in 1948 in connection with our new football field, Lions Stadium

Ozona Public Schools Homecoming

November 12, 1949

The first Ozona Public School's Homecoming was held Nov. 12, 1949. Visitors came from as far as the states of Washington and Arizona to be present for the festivities. To publicize the event, several girls were nominated from the high school to be candidates for Homecoming Queen. Joan Holt, a senior in Ozona High School, was elected by a town-wide vote to be Ozona's first Homecoming Queen. The program began on a Saturday morning, and included speeches from various exes, music by the band and choral club, and the coronation of the Homecoming Queen. Mr. Max Schneeman, President of the Board of Education, crowned the Queen with a jeweled crown, which was donated by Nathan's Jewelry Company, San Angelo, Texas. Following this ceremony, the public was invited to a free barbecue dinner in the park, given by the Lion's Club. The next event was the parade at 2:30, in which school bands from neighboring towns participated as well as floats which were sponsored by various organizations. The celebration was closed with a football game between Ozona and Sonora, and a dance following the game, sponsored by the Student Council.

THE BUILDER

by

Samuel Ellsworth Kiser

Where rocks and rubbish used to be
  There is a pleasant street;
The houses there are fair to see,
  The lawns are green and neat.
Old trees, fast going to decay,
  Have come to life once more,
And happy children are at play
  Where brush heaps were before.

What once was waste and useless land
  Serves uses that are good,
Because a man with vision planned,
  And saw and understood.
Where others passed, and did not see,
  He lingered to percieve;
His faith was strong in what might be,
  But they could not believe.

The rocks that once were cold and bare
  Add beauty to the scene,
And vines are clustered here and there,
  And all the slopes are green.
Where but a little while ago
  Were weeds and broken glass
The winding rows of houses show
  What hope might bring to pass.

Not all the poets live to sing
  Of love and that alone,
For they are poets, too, who bring,
  New charm to wood and stone,
And he is worthy of applause
  Who makes his dream come true
And puts where tangled rubbish was
  A vista fair to view."
